

NORWAY NOW THE KINGDOM OF VIKINGS

King Haakon And Queen Maud Are Crowned With Proper Ceremony This Morning.

ANCIENT CUSTOMS ARE OBSERVED

After Centuries of Foreign Rule The Norwegians Again Have Their Own King And Royal Family.

Trondhjem, June 22.—King Haakon was crowned shortly before noon today, and when the venerable bishop placed the diadem upon the head of him whom he had just anointed in the name of the Lord, lights blazed in the ancient cathedral, beneath the floors of which the bones of Norway's early kings repose, the trumpets blared, the chimes pealed, the great guns boomed distantly, and the harmonized acclaim of the choir within the sacred edifice was taken up hoisterously by the waiting crowds outside.

Grandeur and simplicity were curiously blended in the ceremonies. The spirit of the affair was plain and democratic, although the costly gowns and jewels and the showy uniforms of distinguished personages, high officials of the kingdom, the church and the army, and representatives of the people and the municipalities furnished a regal stage setting.

The procession, long before the king and queen started for the cathedral every possible inch of standing room on the line of march was taken up, and the newly decorated streets were full of bustle and life. Stiftsgaarden palace, naturally was one of the principal centres of interest, as it was the starting point of the procession. Crowds assembled there in immense numbers, and the first hearty cheer of the day went up when the king and queen, the latter looking particularly radiant and happy, emerged through the palace gates.

The route of the pageant, led through the Munksgaarden, which was lined on both sides with immense throngs of spectators, among them visitors from many parts of Europe and America, as well as delegations from all the provinces. At the head of the procession marched the lower court and state functionaries. The king was in a general's began to take their places in the cathedral. The galleries of the nave were lined with distinguished foreign envoys from many parts of the world. The show of color there, in harmony with the cathedral decorations, was rich and pleasing. Seated close by Prince Henry of Prussia and the Crown Prince of Denmark, both

WAYWARD HUSBAND WED TO A MINISTER OF MELBOURNE, IOWA

Fred Dish, of Monroe Who Had Been Visiting Janesville With Woman Not His Wife Released This Morning.

Fred Dish of Monroe whose wife is reported to have attempted suicide by taking poison on account of his alleged devotion to another woman, came to Janesville with the female in question Wednesday night. His wife is still in a critical condition and there is a little three year old child. The woman who is the cause of all the trouble, it is understood, was employed in the boarding house which Dish and his wife assisted their parents in running. Last night the man was placed behind the bars here just on general principles, a traveling man having pointed out Dish to City Marshal Appleby and acquainted him with the facts of the case. This morning the wayward husband pleaded so earnestly and promised so faithfully to return to Monroe and behave himself that he was released.

OBITUARY

Clarence Richards.
Funeral services over the remains of Clarence Richards, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Richards, who died at Brooklyn, were held at the home of Mr. Sidney Richards, 166 Fifth Avenue. The Revs. R. M. Vaughan and J. H. Tippet, conducted the funeral rites. The sons service was rendered by Mr. Howard and Mrs. Davidson. The pall bearers were Earl Tippet, Charlie Noyes, Ray Billings and Stanley Hornwood. Interment at Oakhill.

Revelation.
In the midst of his passionate declaration she yawned slightly. Though with her white and jeweled hand she attempted to conceal the movement, it did not escape him. His torrent of burning words ceased. The light died in his eyes.
"But why, he said, hoarsely, "why speak to you of love? You are heartless—heartless. Your yawn showed it."
"Oh, Clarence," she whispered, "horror-stricken, "did I open my mouth as wide as that?"

ELDER DOWIE TELLS OF HIS SON JOHN

Related to the Court of the Prophet's Birth and Education in Scotland.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Chicago, June 22.—In a hearing today in the federal court John Murray Dowie, of Essex, Ia., took the stand and testified he is the father of John Alexander Dowie. He said he had supported and carefully educated John Alexander at Edinburgh university and later procured him a church in Australia. He asserted the soldier killed in the Crimean war of whom John Alexander claimed to be a son, is a "creature of the mind of John Alexander."

ENTERTAINED FOR MISS VALENTINE

Miss Harriet Bostwick Was Hostess at Enjoyable Afternoon Card Party Yesterday.
Miss Harriet Bostwick was hostess yesterday at a six-handed euchre party given in honor of Miss Anna Valentine. "Tiger lilies were used extensively in the decorations and a delicious luncheon was served after the award of the first prize to Mrs. David Holmes and the consolation to Miss Florence Palmer. Miss Roxie Seabury of Oak Park, Ill., who is visiting Miss Mae Valentine, and Miss Leonore Meinhardt of Burlington were out-of-town guests.

JANITORS PICNICKED UP RIVER YESTERDAY

Spent the Day With Tackle and Rod Near Newville On the Rock—One Absent.
Yesterday the janitors of the city took their lunch and fishing tackle and left about six o'clock for Newville where they spent the day. In spite of the poor weather a very good time is reported by them and some good fish were brought home. All the janitors who had planned to go were present with the exception of D. D. Bennett, who thought the day too damp to venture forth on such an excursion. Those who made up the party that left the high school building in the morning were Chas. Stone, L. S. Dudley, John Madden, E. C. Crandall, Geo. and Chas. Viney, Wm. Denning and August Muenchow. They returned about eight o'clock last evening.

HUNT FOR DIAMONDS IS GIVEN IMPETUS

Great Increase in Value Since First Of Year Causes Closer Search In America.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Washington, D. C., June 22.—Never before in the history of the United States has there been such a demand for diamonds as there was in 1905. Large quantities were imported, but the country produced none. In 1902 the country produced diamonds to the value of $50, in 1901 it had an output worth $100, in 1900 its production was valued at $150, and in 1899 the country boasted native diamonds to the value of $350. Diamonds have been discovered in the United States in four different regions, but their actual place of origin is in every case unknown. All have been found in loose and superficial deposits, and all accidentally. It is not at all improbable, however, that some day the original sources of this queen of gems may be discovered. The high price of diamonds has made the recent search for these precious stones in the United States and Canada keener than ever before. A careful watch for diamonds was kept during the examination by the United States Geological Survey of many samples of gold and platinum sands at the Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland. A lookout for diamonds has also been kept by a number of people who have been dredging for gold on an extensive scale in the rivers of California.

ENGLISH PRESS IS CONTINUING FIGHT

American Packers Attacked Daily—Speaks Of "Carriion And Worse Things Sent For Food."
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
London, June 22.—The English press continues to comment in a spirited manner on the packing house revelations in Chicago and other American cities. A leading journal, in its latest issue, says: "The whole story, in fact, of the Chicago meat packing industry is a chronicle of carrion and worse things sent out for human food. It is well to remember that of this sort of stuff Great Britain last year imported an amount valued at some two and a half millions sterling. Whether after these revelations we shall do trade to the same amount remains to be seen. If we do, we are a stronger stomached people than is generally accredited."

BIG REGATTA TAKES PLACE ON TOMORROW

Great Intercollegiate Shell Races At Poughkeepsie Will Be Watched By Entire Country.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 22.—Once more is the lethargy of this old town aroused over an intercollegiate regatta. One hundred men representing the best of colleges have been able to develop by constant training will complete here tomorrow afternoon in the annual regatta of the Intercollegiate Rowing association. The crews which will strive for premier honors, represent Cornell, Syracuse, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Georgetown and Wisconsin, and the eve of the regatta finds the same element of uncertainty which has been characteristic of the event since its inception. Preparations have been made for a big crowd. Already the town is filled with hundreds of graduates and undergraduates, parsons of the six colleges which will participate in the regatta, discussing the probable winners in the three races which will make up tomorrow's program. The town wears a holiday appearance, the colors of all the universities represented being displayed conspicuously in the principal streets. The influx tomorrow is expected to be in excess of anything ever known at a Poughkeepsie regatta, and it is predicted that the largest crowd that ever witnessed a rowing event in America will see the rival crews struggle for honors.

IVENS HANGS FOR THE BRUTAL MURDER OF MRS. HOLLISTER TODAY

Death Pays The Penalty For Brutal And Revolting Crime In February Last.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Chicago, June 22.—Richard Ivens was hung here today for the brutal and revolting murder of Mrs. Bessie Hollister, in January last. Ivens, undisturbed by the prospect of death in the same stolid manner with which he conducted himself since his arrest. When he stepped on the scaffold, however, much of his courage failed him. Just before the cap was drawn over his face, he attempted to utter a prayer, but although his lips moved convulsively his voice would not respond and he was not able to utter a sound. It is evident he was on the verge of a complete collapse, and the sheriff hastened the last details as much as possible in order to avoid such contingency.

IMPORTANT DECISIONS ARE HANDLED DOWN BY JUDGES

Inheritance Tax, Railway Tax, Indian Case, Gas And Electric Light Prices, Are Among Decisions Rendered.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., June 22.—Decisions of vast importance to the people of Wisconsin were handed down yesterday by the state supreme court. The inheritance tax statute enacted by the last legislature was upheld in the decision of the Nunnemacher case, and the result will be that the state will collect some $400,000 or more annually from the estates of deceased rich people. Already $240,000 had been collected under the law, and the most important estates had been able to delay payment by keeping their resist claims in the courts. Those that paid did so under protest, so that had the test case been decided against the state, the sum collected thus far under the law would have to be refunded. This is a fortunate decision for the state treasury, as the policy of the administration has for the last three years, remitted the tax for the running expenses of the state government and this policy has depleted the funds, so that the inheritance tax money was needed.

Split Even.
The railroad split even in its cases growing out of the La Follette agitation in this state. The ad valorem tax law was sustained. This assessed the property of the railroads, as is the property of individuals and resulted in raising the railroad taxes about $750,000 a year over what they would be under the old license fee system. The state lost the "penalty" cases in which recovery of a penalty of $10,000 was sought for every report of gross earnings submitted by the roads and which was found to be inaccurate. In these "penalty" cases the lawyers for the state "stipulated away" their case, uniting in a stipulation that the reports filed by the railroads were filed in good faith. On most points the court decided for the state, but held that no recovery could be had when it was conceded that the reports were filed in good faith and without intent to defraud, therefore containing only "excusable errors and omissions. Another set of railroad cases remains to be decided, being the suits of the state to recover alleged back taxes.

Civil Service Law.
The civil service law, attacked by Commissioner of Banking M. C. Bergh, but it will not apply to the banking department, as contended for by the commissioner of banking. The act creating this department was enacted as the result of a constitutional amendment, and can be changed only by such a legislative vote, two-thirds, as is necessary to act upon a constitutional amendment, therefore, the court held, the civil service law, requiring only a majority vote of the legislature for its enactment, can not affect the banking department. The attack on the constitutionality of the civil service law, said to be designed to knock out the entire merit system in this state, was not successful.

Indian Case.
The Indians on the reservation at Ashland won on their appeal from a decision denying them the right to collect the money held for them by Indian Agent Campbell for timber cut from their allotments of government lands. This test case was pressed by Attorney H. M. Tomkins, who bought up a large number of these Indians' claims. The aggregate involved is some $300,000.
Gas and Electric.
No city in Wisconsin can bring successful suit to lower a rate for service of gas and electric current. The court held in the case of the city of Madison against the gas company that the legislature never having established such rates or delegated the power of fixing such rates to a municipality, the court could not examine any rate fixed by a corporation. This decision means that one of the fights in the next legislature will be to have the legislature give to municipalities the power to fix rates for gas and electric current furnished by corporations within their limits.

CEMENT WORK IS IN MUCH DEMAND

SAND HILLS SOUTH OF CITY BUSY PLACES.

Factories Are All Busy

New Buildings All Over the State Are Being Built by Janesville Material.

Much improvement can be noticed in the last few weeks in the business being done in the factories on the southern edge of the city among the sand hills. These concerns which started on a small scale are growing and expanding and it is only a matter of a short time when they will be doing an enormous business. Some years ago these hills were unused, but now there are five factories consuming the silica sand.

Nearly Complete.

The derrick which is being built to load cars of sand for shipment is nearly complete. This derrick is being built by the Roberts and Fisher company and will enable them to load more cars than they have previously by the aid of men with shovels. The tower has been completed and yesterday the motor was installed that will furnish the power to hoist the sand into the cars. It is stated that about one thousand pounds of sand will be raised with one revolution of the shovels and will be sifted as it is loaded into the cars.

Cement Posts.

The Janesville Cement Post Factory are very busy filling their orders, and are now running full force. Some fifteen men are working in the factory, and others are being hired daily. The large order which has just been completed for the Chicago and Alton railroad. Several carloads were shipped each week and the order when complete numbered about 31,000 posts. The long shed which was a few weeks ago filled with products is now nearly empty and they are now busily engaged preparing for the large order which has just been received from the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric Line company. As this is a busy time with the farmers, not many posts are being sold by the wagon load, but large quantities have been got rid of in this way in the last few months and many beautiful fences are the result about this locality.

New Factory Building.

The Silica Brick and Stone company are at present installing one of the Victor mixing machines and in a few days will be in shape to start upon the big amount of work which this concern are to accomplish. These people have just commenced work upon a new two-story factory building to be built in Janesville in the near future. The structure will be 30 by 50 feet and is designed to be panel corrugated, and as it is to be situated in the heart of the city, will undoubtedly be a "profit to it." They also have under consideration eight residences in Milwaukee and have several jobs in sight in this city.

Granite Bricks.

The Granite Brick company are putting out their usual amount of work and have just installed a new feed water or condensing process by which the steam is condensed and pumped back into the boiler as water. This concern keeps up to the times in machinery used in this kind of a plant, and their work is up to any of its kind. Brick is being sent every week to the new State Normal school which is being erected at Platteville, and also to towns in the vicinity where it will form the principle material of some handsome residences.

Stone For City.

The erection of the sand loader is occupying most of the time of the help of the Rock County Concrete Stone company, but they will be running full force in a few days and have work to manufacture the stone for several residences to be built in this city during this summer. A house is being built by these people at Milton and the work at Brooklyn will soon be completed.

CAMP H. E. GIFFORD OF THE U. S. A. W. V.

Organized Last Evening With 24 Members by Veterans of the War With Spain.

Camp H. E. Gifford of the United Spanish-American War Veterans was organized at the G. A. R. hall with twenty-four members last evening. The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock. John L. Fletcher presiding as chairman and with John Atkinson of Shopiere in the secretary's chair. Officers to serve until December 31 were elected as follows: Commander, E. S. Felter; Senior Vice Commander, J. M. Dixon; Junior Vice Commander, Frank Brown; Chaplain, J. T. Atkinson; Officer of the Day, B. L. Nott; Officer of the Guard, J. L. Fletcher; Trustees, J. L. Fletcher, Frank Brown and Fred Pierson. It was Mr. Atkinson's suggestion that the camp be named after Harry E. Gifford, the first of the Rock county men who enlisted in Janesville to give up his life for his country. The installation will take place Tuesday. An installing officer from headquarters will be here at that time.

DISTRIBUTED MONEY WHEN WERE NO BANKS

R. N. Johnson, Late of Indian Ford, Traveled Over Wisconsin in Early Days as Express Messenger.

The late R. N. Johnson, whose death occurred at his home in Indian Ford Sunday, June 10, was one of the earliest of Wisconsin pioneers and had many exciting and interesting experiences as an express money messenger in the days before railroads. A native of England, born March 24, 1830, in Pulton, Lancashire, he came to America with his parents at the age of four. On August 26, 1850, he became a resident of the town of Fulton and was in the employ of an express company. His duty was to carry money, there being no banks in the state beside the Mitchell institution of Milwaukee. His trips were made by the stage from Chicago to Green Bay but the route often varied. Mr. Johnson being obliged to look for enterprising farmers or country merchants who desired to borrow cash. One of his stopping places was with Silas Hurd just east of Indian Ford. When help was scarce and fever and ague plenty, he often helped the farmers over their busy season. Mr. Johnson was one of the fifteen early day Democrats who were residents of the town of Fulton. The party ticket was often written by him, there being no printing press nearby. When a young man Mr. Johnson was united in marriage with Miss Nancy Green and their home was in the brick hotel at the Ford, where he later conducted a store and postoffice. Four sons and two daughters were born to bless this union and not until seventeen years ago was the family circle broken. Then Mrs. Johnson passed away and since a son, Thomas, of this city, and a daughter, Mrs. Mamie Jones of Jackson, Tenn., formerly a successful teacher in the Evansville schools, have followed her to the grave. Those left to mourn Mrs. Johnson's demise are a widow, Mrs. Mary Mastison-Johnson, a daughter, Mrs. Nellie Hollins of Chicago, and three sons, Wellington, John and Edward Johnson. Six grandchildren also survive.

TO CLEAR CHANNEL FOR THE LAUNCHES

Janesville Boat Club May Do Some Dynamiting Near Indian Ford—Meeting Called Next Thursday.

Several matters of general interest were discussed by those who attended what was to have been a special session of the Janesville Boat Club at Frank Pierson's gun shop on North Main street last evening. Several of the boat-owners who were expected to be present and whose opinions were wanted before any definite action should be taken failed to put in an appearance and the session was finally adjourned to Thursday evening next. Various aspects of the project of a deeper water-way near the Indian Ford dam and the feasibility of dynamiting several large rocks which obstruct the channel about a mile below that point were considered. It was shown that the cost of constructing the boat-ramp around the Indian Ford dam had aggregated $208.02. The Indian Ford Transportation Co. is to have a man in charge of the road throughout the season and non-members will be charged a fee of $1.50 for transferring their launches from river to lake and back again. George M. McKay, president of the club, is in favor of holding a river carnival just above the upper bridge this summer and the proposition will be broached at the next meeting.

The midnight Chicago-Janesville passenger over the Northwestern reached this city a half hour late Tuesday morning. A mile beyond ory it was discovered that the water supply was giving out and it was necessary to back the train to that station in order to replenish it. Meanwhile red lights had to be put out as a warning to the northbound passenger which was closely following. Railroad officials are said to be investigating the matter and the carelessness may lead to unpleasant results for the engine crew.

...FORTY YEARS AGO...

Jansville Daily Gazette, Friday, June 22nd, 1866.—The Madison Journal says Judge William F. Lyons of the first circuit, late Colonel of 13th Wisconsin, has been selected to make the presentation speech on the occasion of returning the flags of Wisconsin regiments that served during the war, to the State, on the 4th of July next. Judge Lyons has signified his acceptance of the duty.

A Lady Died in Hartford, Conn., last week, under circumstances which could hardly be accounted for by her physicians. A post mortem examination was held and in the lower part of her body, surrounded by the intestines, were discovered eight or ten plum stones, a lot of fish bones, some egg shells or other hard substances, which had lodged there and formed a large ulcer which was the cause of her death.

The English papers, which were at first alarmed, are now laughing at Gladstone's prediction, that the British coal supply will be exhausted by the year 1970. It appears that he entirely overlooked the Welsh mines, which will last four thousand years, according to Mr. Gladstone's estimate of the annual rate of consumption.

Jug Prairie, June 21.—Charles Randolph of Des Moines, Ia., arrived last Thursday to spend the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ballard.

Leonard Flinn of Evansville spent the latter part of last week at the home of his grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reese.

Mrs. Peter Smith was a recent visitor with Stoughton relatives.

Edward Reese is building a new barn on his farm which is rented by Charlie Apple.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harris and daughter Cora of Evansville, were Sunday guests of their daughter, Mrs. Adell Ballard. Mrs. Harris remaining until Wednesday.

Martin Croak had a regular old-fashioned barn raising Tuesday afternoon. Everyone in this vicinity and many from Evansville assisted.

School closed in the Tullar district last Friday. A picnic was held in the afternoon and the program given by the scholars was greatly enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Glidden of Evansville called on friends here Sunday.

B. A. Higday is improving his farm residence by a new coat of paint.

COOKSVILLE

Cooksville, June 21.—Mrs. Gertie Bartlett is spending the week with Mrs. Fred Hyland. Ellen Morgan is taking care of her chickens.

Mrs. Newkirk takes the cake on new pens. They are fine.

Henry Johnson died in Brooklyn last Sunday and his burial took place here and was conducted by the G. A. R. It was a beautiful ceremony and pathetic. The old, gray-headed

"Many old camels carry the skins of the young ones to the market."—Talmud. And many an older merchant may perform that function for his younger, "cock-sure" competitor—if the older man has "learned things" about advertising as his years have passed.

Even blooded cattle owned by millionaires can have tuberculosis.

Sometimes even millionaires can do wrong, even if they have millions.

We hope that Walter Wellman will bring back nothing but hard, cold facts.

District attorneyship seems to be a plum that is being coveted by several this summer.

Just what former Judge Parker thinks of William Jennings Bryan and his boomlet, is not yet in print.

Evidently the senate think they know what kind of a canal ought to be built at Panama. Maybe they do?

My, but won't those democrats make Milwaukee howl when they do get down to business there next week?

When a man smokes ropes and does not know the difference between the genuine weed and hemp it is time he stops smoking, in this world at least.

When the United States gets its new war "machine" "skipped-of-nothing," as Mr. Williams of Mississippi wants it called, there will be no stopping it.

The democrats are having hard work to secure a "bakers' dozen" to attend the county conventions to select delegates to their conference convention in Milwaukee next week.

When peoples' voices can be transmitted over miles of country, through stone walls and yet heard as distinctly as though in the next room the inventions of the age can be considered marvelous.

The great human pacifier who appeared on the horizon last winter trying to pacify something that did not need pacifying, appears to have sunk into a slumber that needs no awakening.

This hitching onto the tail end of the Bryan band wagon seems to some people to be a dodge to kill off the venerable silver-tongued orator of the Platte in favor of some other Indian.

National politics for nineteen eight already appear to be bothering the national slate makers most fearfully. It will probably end up by seeing Roosevelt and Bryan running against each other.

It will soon be mid-summer and even the hot dog days will not dishearten the dogged politician from following out his threat and running for office.

Surprise parties await everyone who runs for office this year. The old way of knowing that your money was being spent right will not go now and you can spend twice as much money and be sure it is all wrong when you get through.

Farmers who object to alleged drunken autoists who are alleged to annoy them, should remember that the autoist is also annoyed with annoyances of drunken farmers who are reckless drivers. Just like "Peter Piper who picked a peck of pickled peppers."

One thing Walter Wellman forgot to arrange for and that was a meeting with Darius Green immediately on his return from the north pole. Of course he may accept an invitation from Davy Jones, but it is to be hoped that he and Darius can meet and compare notes on aerial navigation.

Instead of free silver and gold the question of the tariff appears to be the next national campaign issue worthy of mention. This question has bothered the world for centuries ever since Caesar conceived the old saying, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesars." Of course some bible shark will come along and say that Caesar did not say that but he did.

THE CANAL QUESTION.

Some one is right and some one is wrong on the Panama canal question. Either the lock canal is the proper system to unite the Atlantic and Pacific oceans or it is not. Either the sea level idea is the right and proper feature or it is not. There is a diversity of opinion, a wide difference between the best and ablest men in the engineering profession in the United States. Time will settle it and the dispute will never be ended even after the canal itself is completed. But once the senate and congress decide which they want let's get to work and build the canal and dispute afterwards.

PRESS COMMENT.

One Sojourn Here Enough.
Green Bay Gazette: It is really to be hoped that Dowle is a false prophet. He promises to return from the dead.

Vudor Porch Shades

If you have a suitable porch you can hardly realize the pleasure and satisfaction one or more Vudor Shades would add. When not in use, rolled up out of sight. With Vudor Shades, so much time can be spent in the open air, free from onlookers. They add an extra room to the house in which the sick or well can while away many pleasant hours.

Vudor Chair Hammocks are attracting attention everywhere. No porch is complete without one. Before Trying a Vudor Chair Hammock you may think you would not like one; after resting in one a few minutes all is different. You are invited to call and try the Chair Hammock which we have in position in the carpet department.

We will put one up on your porch and allow a two days trial before buying. Chair Hammocks when not in use can be hung on a nail out of the way. Babies and small children can play in a chair hammock with perfect safety when hung but a few inches from the floor.

We hag Porch Shades and Chair Hammocks Free.

Domestic Rugs

We have recently received about 60 Room Size American Made Rugs in several leading makes.

We have the Strickler patent tracks for displaying rugs, and can show our entire stock with but little effort.

A much larger collection of rugs than one might expect to see in a city of Janesville's size if not knowing our capacity for doing things.

IT'S ALL VERY WELL TO SAY that price should cut no figure when you are buying a buggy, and that quality should be the only point considered. This is partially true, BUT there is such a thing as paying too much for even a good article. It all depends upon the margin of profit which the dealer figures he should have on his goods. We are not giving buggies away; neither do we expect to get rich off the profits of two or three jobs; but we do propose to sell you good, honest buggies, guaranteed in every respect, at a fair, legitimate profit.

We've sold a lot of buggies and we are going to sell more, for people are realizing that what we say is true, and that solid, high grade, highly finished buggies can be bought of us just a little cheaper than at any other place.

A PRETTY WEDDING WEDNESDAY EVENING

Miss Grace K. Killam is Married to Roy Mephram of Reedsburg.

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening at the Rock Co. Assylum when Miss Grace K. Killam, daughter of Supt. Killam, was married to Mr. Roy Mephram of Reedsburg. The large drawing room beautifully decorated with ferns, palms, and roses was occupied by the many guests; when at six o'clock to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Harriet Minard, the bride couple, attended by Eva Killam and Harry Sorge, entered and took their places before a bank of green where the nuptial words were spoken by Rev. J. Dorland. After congratulations, the party repaired to the large dining room decorated in green and white where a dainty two-course dinner was served by ten young ladies. The many beautiful and costly presents received by them gave evidence of the high esteem in which these young people are held by their large circle of friends. Those in attendance from a distance were: Rev. and Mrs. J. Dorland, Juda; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mephram, Mr. and Mrs. H. Sorge, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Weidman, Mrs. Will Ware, Mrs. George Sparks and son Louis, Miss Gladys Mephram, Messrs. Harry Sorge, Willie Elenberg and Otto Meyers, Reedsburg, and Miss Lottie Johnson, Wauwatosa.

CONDEMNED TO DEATH BY KANGAROO COURT

Mind of English Emigrant Found Wandering Near Beloit Was Unbalanced by a Hoax on Train.

Night Patrolman Floyd Carter of Beloit, while in Janesville this morning, gave an account of a rather unusual case that came to the notice of the Lino City officers about four days ago. It is concerned with an Englishman driven to the verge of insanity by a practical joke played upon him by a coterie of jolly drummers whom he encountered on the train coming from New York. Edward Price was the victim's name and he was found wandering aimlessly about the environs of Beloit, hopelessly bewildered, tortured by the thought that he was being hounded for a crime of which he was innocent, trembling at every footfall which might mean that relentless pursuers were closing in upon him.

Price and a companion after arriving in New York boarded a train for the west. They were several hours from Chicago when the joke-loving traveling men began to work up a murder case against the two emigrants. After declaring Price to be a well-known character wanted for a particularly revolting crime and his companion, as an accomplice, they proceeded to arrest the pair and try them before an improvised court of justice. Elaborate pleas were made and a "kangaroo" judge and jury solemnly passed upon the evidence and condemned Price to death and his companion to life imprisonment. The persecutors, delighted with the success of the hoax, resolved to see the thing to an end and were with the two men when they boarded a train out of Chicago.

Near Harvard the man, Price, thoughtfully frightened by that time, succeeded in eluding his guard for a moment and dropped off the train. From thence he wandered on alone to Beloit. The check for his trunk in New York and $55 in money he placed in the keeping of Officer Whipple. The officer persuaded the man to see a physician and when the latter had examined him he declared that the man was overcome by fatigue and that his mind had been temporarily unbalanced by some terrible shock or fright. Price was induced to go to the American House and rest. He remained all night, but after dinner on the day following mysteriously disappeared and has not since been heard from. His money and trunk-check are still in the hands of the officer.

A HEALTHY OLD AGE
OFFER THE BEST PART OF LIFE
Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life
Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Mrs. Mary Koehne

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth. When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow restless and shaky at the least provocation, and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up women's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary L. Koehne, 371 Garfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years in my family and it never disappoints; so when I felt that I was nearing the change of life I commenced treatment with it. I took in all about six bottles and it did me a great deal of good. It stopped my dizzy spells, pains in my back and the headaches with which I had suffered for months before taking the Compound. I feel that it had not been for this great medicine for women that I should not have been alive to-day. This splendid medicine for women old or young, and will surely cure all female disorders."

Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

NORWAY KINGDOM
OF VIKINGS' NOW
of whom were accompanied by their suites in brilliant uniforms, was the American envoy, Charles H. Graves. With Minister Graves was Lieutenant-Commander John H. Gibbons of the United States navy.

The time of waiting was relieved by music. The chief feature of the musical program were the processionals composed for the occasion by Ole Olson and a cantata by Halvorsen, the latter being sung by a chorus of 200 voices.

The Ceremony of Coronation.
A royal cheer announced the arrival of the royal procession shortly after 11 o'clock. The king and queen entered by the northern doorway of the cathedral, walking up the steps on a strip of red velvet under a canopy bearing the arms of Norway, and proceeded along the nave.

The king was received by the Bishop of Trondheim, supported by the Bishop of Bergen and the Metropolitan of Christiania and surrounded by numerous clergymen. After several short prayers the king was accompanied to an armchair placed on the right of the altar, and the bearers of the imperial banner and the royal insignia ranged in a semi-circle about him. The queen was received in like manner and placed in a chair opposite the king's. When all were placed the organ ceased playing and the king and queen knelt in prayer in solemn silence. When they regained their seats, the royal insignia were placed upon the altar, divine services began, and after several hymns and brief prayers, the Metropolitan of Christiania preached a short and appropriate sermon.

Go to Throne.
Then the king rose and went to the royal throne, placed upon temporary steps in front of the altar. The princely mantle was taken from his shoulders and the royal mantle, with its gold embroidered crowns, upon purple velvet and with borders of ermine, was put upon him.

Again the king knelt, and the anointing ceremony followed. The Bishop of Trondheim dipped a finger in the anointment horn and made the sign of the cross on the king's naked breast, saying, as he did so: "May the Almighty, Eternal God pour over you His spirit and grace, that you may, with wisdom and strength and good will, so rule over us that the name of the Lord be glorified, that right and truth prevail, that the weal of the land and of the people be furthered and confirmed."

The Oath.
The administration of the oath followed. Standing before the king's chair, Premier Michelsen asked: "Sir, is your majesty willing to take the oath?" The king answered in firm, strong tones: "I am willing," etc., his replies being easily heard in the most distant parts of the marble-pillared cathedral.

The crown was then placed on the king's brow, and he received the scepter, the globe, and the sword, according to the program. When all these ceremonies, each accompanied by an appropriate sentence, were over, the king-at-arms lifted up his staff and exclaimed: "Now King Haakon VII. is crowned King of Norway, he and nobody else!"

This announcement was greeted with cheers, flourishes of trumpets and the royal salute of 112 guns. As the acclamations died away, the clanging of the joy bells, the noise of guns, and the shouting of the people on the side penetrated into the cathedral, where the king still sat, motionless, his dazzling crown on his head and his scepter held firmly in his hand.

Crowning of the Queen.
After another prayer had been offered the king rose from his throne and returned to his chair in the nave. Then the queen was conducted to the throne and the same ceremonies were gone through with. Her Majesty, accompanied by her entourage, proceeded to the altar steps, where, under a pall of cloth of gold she was quickly crowned by the Bishop of Trondheim. She was then led to the chair beside that in which the king sat, and her coronation was accomplished.

The queen bowed to King Haakon and both walked to the altar and received the communion. All present knelt. The whole spectacle was most impressive, and was made more brilliant owing to the surroundings. Neither of their majesties returned to their thrones after the communion, but remained at the altar. The service, which was concluded with the singing of the last verses of the Halvorsen cantata written especially for the occasion, was brought to a close without a hitch.

Scenes of Enthusiasm.
A few minutes later the king and queen emerged from the cathedral, still wearing their crowns and carrying scepter and globe. As the king passed beneath the entrance arch those in the body of the church commenced to cheer. The sound grew in volume, the whole vast throng rising and hurraing at the top of their voices. Until the last man in the royal procession had disappeared without the entrance the cheering was continued.

The departure of the king and queen from the cathedral was signalled by another salute, the massed bands playing the national anthem. The entire route of their majesties' return to the palace was marked by scenes of great enthusiasm.

The King and Queen.
With the accession of King Haakon VII. to the throne Norway begins a new epoch of her history, a return, after hundreds of years, to the condition of a separate kingdom. On June 7 of last year Norway declared its independence and in October the parliaments of Sweden and Norway ratified a treaty providing for the peaceful separation of the kingdoms. Prince Charles of Denmark was asked to become a candidate for the throne of Norway. On Nov. 12, 1905 an election was held and Charles was chosen king. Upon assuming the throne on November 25 he took the name of Haakon VII.

King Haakon is the second son of

NORWAY KINGDOM OF VIKINGS' NOW

King Frederick of Denmark. He was born August 13, 1872, at Charlottenlund, the summer residence of his father. He was trained for the navy and made several cruises aboard Danish warships.

Queen Maud is the daughter of Edward VII. of England. Her childhood was spent at Sandringham, the favorite home of the English royal family. It was during the visit of the princess and her sister, Princess Victoria, to their grandparents at Copenhagen that the friendship between Charles and Maud was begun. There was considerable opposition to the marriage, as Maud was the daughter of the future king of England and Charles was only a Danish prince. No one then dreamed of the great events that were destined soon to come into the young prince's life.

The wedding took place in July, 1895, in Buckingham palace chapel. Prince Charles was well received in England. His father-in-law became much attached to him and often employed him in delicate and important missions.

The royal couple have one son, Prince Olaf, now heir apparent to the Norwegian throne. He will be three years old next week after next, having been born at Appleton house, Sandringham, on July 2, 1903.

ECZEMA SKIN RAW AND FEVERISH-ITCHING INTENSE
Eczema is a tormenting, stubborn disease caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing redness, inflammation and almost intolerable itching. An inactive state of the system and sluggish condition of the eliminative members leaves the waste and refuse matter of the body to collect and sour instead of passing them off through nature's channels of bodily waste. The blood in its efforts to purge the system of all foreign matter absorbs this acid and throws it off through the pores and glands of the skin. The acid humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire, the straw colored, sticky fluid drying and forming crusts, and the itching is intense. When these pustules are scratched off the skin is left raw and feverish and often a solid sore is formed and kept up by the constant escape of acids from the blood. Local applications of salves, powders, lotions, etc. are desirable and should be used because they allay the itching and give the sufferer temporary comfort, but are in no sense curative, because they cannot reach the seat of the trouble, which is in the blood.

S. S. S. goes down into the blood, cleanses the circulation of all acids and humors, builds up the thin, sour blood and by removing every vestige of the cause cures Eczema permanently. The irritating eruptions disappear, the itching and burning cease, and the acidified skin, being fed by a fresh, cooling stream of blood, becomes soft and smooth again. S. S. S. is made of healing, purifying roots, herbs and barks that will not damage any part of the system. Book on skin diseases and any medical advice free.

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

Dr. and Mrs. Anderson of Orfordville are in the city today.

Miss Myrtle Strang who has been teaching near Footville returned home this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter of Onelda, N. Y., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pond on East street returned to their home this morning.

About four hundred went through here today on the excursion to the Dells. Only about twenty-five went from this city. A large crowd were expecting to go from here, but did not on account of the weather.

Wanted—Messenger at Postal Telegraph-Cable Co.'s office.

Miss Gertrude Sherman of Milwaukee is the guest of Mrs. John H. McNaught.

Charles S. Buck of Beloit was in the city today.

No Sane Fourth For Milwaukee.

Chicago Inter Ocean. The mayor of Milwaukee does not favor what is editorially known as a "sane" Fourth of July. That he does favor a form of celebration that might reasonably be described as "insane," however, does not follow.

The mayor of Milwaukee is a young man. Frequently he is referred to as the "boy mayor." The recollections of his early years are therefore still fresh in his mind. And he does not purpose asserting his authority to rob the youth of the generation that is following him of one of the greatest joys of young lives.

"I want all the noise possible," says the mayor of Milwaukee, "if noise is what the little fellows want. We won't have any sane Fourth here." And he adds, further, that if the young Americans of Milwaukee so desire they can begin the celebration of the Fourth immediately.

It is on this latter question, that many will be inclined to take issue with Mayor Becker. The crack of the firecracker and the snap of the cap, the boom of the toy cannon, and the startling explosion of the dynamite torpedo are all right on one day in the year, provided they do not occur proximate to the bedroom window and too early in the morning, but to have them as a daily program for from four to six weeks is pressing patriotism to rather extreme limits. It is seriously to be doubted, in fact, whether even the spirit of '76 could stand the strain of dancing to that time.

Only A Venial Crime.

Pittsburg Dispatch. The Dakota case in which a wealthy land grabber was sentenced by a sympathetic court to spend a few hours in charge of the marshal is matched by a case reported by Secretary Hitchcock from Wyoming. H. G. Wear, who pleaded guilty to having illegally fenced 150,000 acres of government land, was, on the recommendation of the United States district attorney, sentenced to the remarkably lenient punishment of one day in jail and a fine of $300. Public opinion in that section, as in Dakota, seems to look upon the theft of government land as something to be condoned, if not commended.

call at our store and see our elegant line of PIANOS.

You pay no profit to the MIDDLE MAN, by buying of us, as you are doing business direct with the manufacturer and besides we bought the entire retail stock of the well known Cable Nelson Co's pianos, who have discontinued there retail stores in Chicago and elsewhere, and who are now manufacturing pianos to sell at wholesale only.

This stock consisted of over 400 pianos and we bought for spot cash. What is their loss is your gain. We have some of every style on our floor here. Let us price them to you.

Only 5 more days before our contest closes. It costs you nothing to try. If you haven't a blank, come and get one.
